Old and New Business

Gale Nichols will present the financial report at the December meeting.

The MCCSC school list server crashed and until it is rebuilt, communication via email is hindered.

Upcoming Concerts

Becky Robbins and Janis Stockhouse are publicizing the upcoming concerts: the Jazz Bands on November 13; the Concert Banda on November 19. Nan Morrow is organizing the volunteers and will have a sign-up sheet for future Jazz Fest and ISSMA volunteer opportunities. Gale Nichols will have a table set up at the concert for people to pay their dues.

Marching Band Night

Marching Band Night is set for Tuesday, November 25. The O'Neals will be formally recognized with a plaque and a gift certificate for dinner for their years of providing delicious and nutritious meals the Marching Band. Becky Robbins will make the presentation. Letters and pins will be given to the students. And this year, there will be gifts to seniors who have been involved in the marching for four years. There will be cake and punch after the awards ceremony.

A new recruit will be needed to take over the O'Neal's job next year.

Christy Wilson will put together a video for the marching band, and the band boosters will pay her $200-250 for her work in producing the video, cover and artwork.

Bloomington Jazz Fest

Planning for the Bloomington Jazz Fest is under way with Julia Copeland chairing. Several committee positions need heads: the hospitality room; set-up coordinator; parent to run the sound; and a co-chair to fill Julia's shoes after Thea graduates this year. Jenny Shedd has agreed to do concessions once again this year.

Endowment Letter

The endowment committee (Janis Stockhouse, Becky Robbins, Leah Shopkow and Esther Smail) has been busy. Leah has pulled together a database of past and present alumni and parents. Becky and Janis have been writing the letter. Esther has begun working on the graphics for the letter. The endowment fund currently has approximately $30,000, and the goal is to build it to $100,000 by May.

Directors Report—Janis Stockhouse and Thomas Wilson

Tom Wilson reported that he received an email from MCCSC Treasurer, Tim Thrasher regarding money that may be available for marching band uniforms. There will be $10,000 put in the MCCSC budget for uniforms. The MCCSC Board of Trustees will need to approve it before it would be made available. This will be done at the MCCSC budget meeting.

Tom reported that the marching band will use the lower parking lot again next year for practice. The upper lot will be repaved at the same time the Hoosier Hills lot is, and that hasn't been bid yet.
